

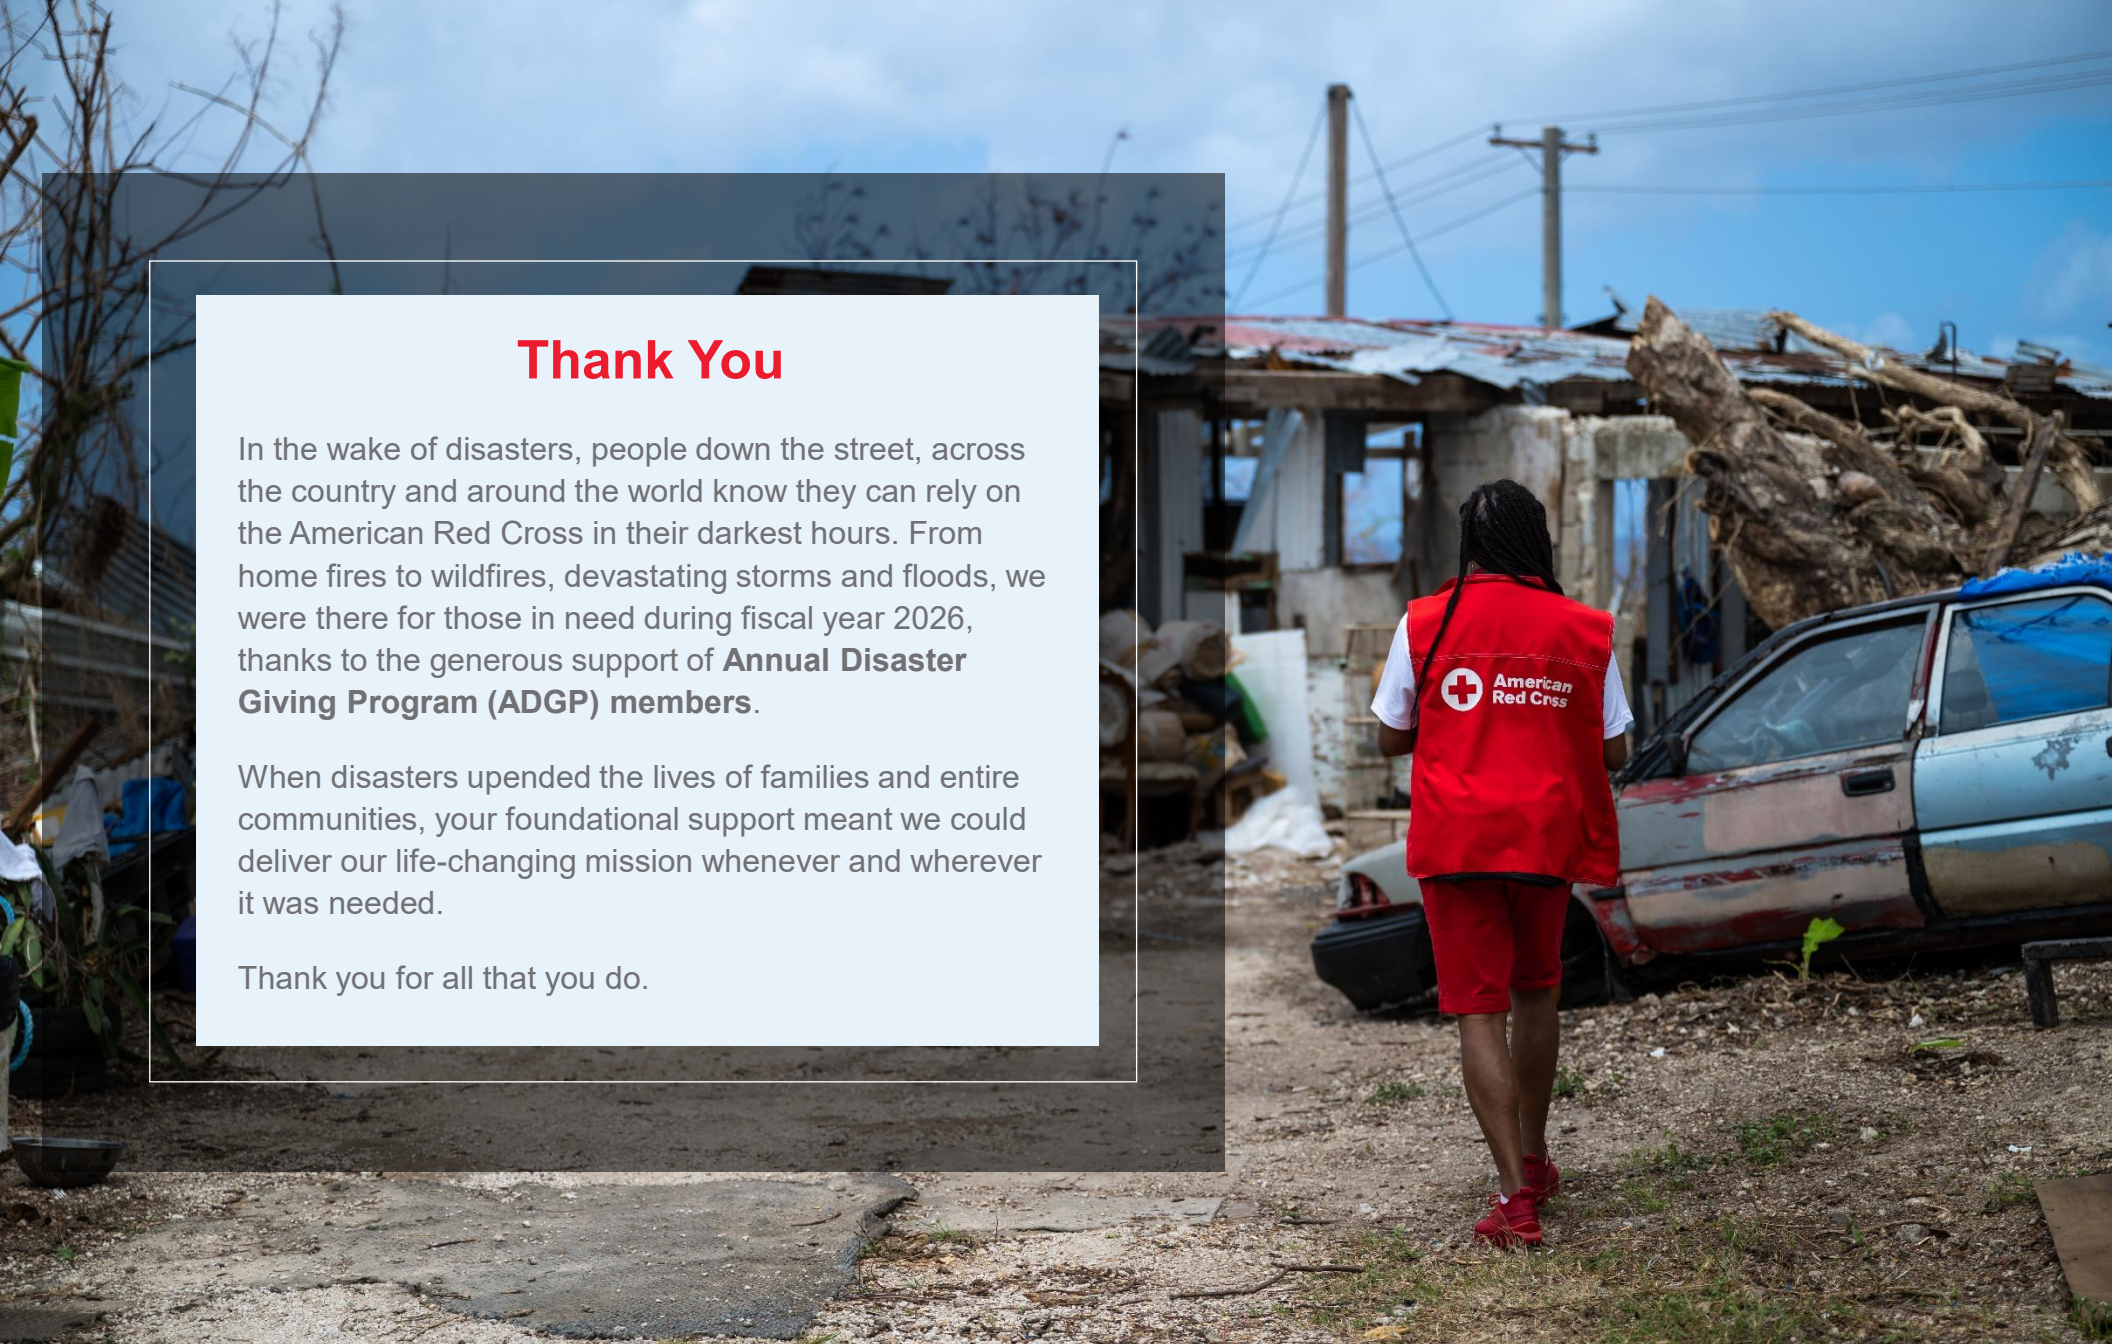
American Red Cross | Annual Disaster Giving Program

ADGP MEMBER

FY26 IMPACT REPORT

JULY 1, 2025 – JUNE 30, 2026



Thank You

In the wake of disasters, people down the street, across the country and around the world know they can rely on the American Red Cross in their darkest hours. From home fires to wildfires, devastating storms and floods, we were there for those in need during fiscal year 2026, thanks to the generous support of Annual Disaster Giving Program (ADGP) members.

When disasters upended the lives of families and entire communities, your foundational support meant we could deliver our life-changing mission whenever and wherever it was needed.

Thank you for all that you do.

In the U.S., We Helped Over 1.1 Million People Before, During and After Disasters

Across the U.S., we helped people prepare for and recover from disasters large and small, from home fires to severe weather, floods, wildfires — even a super typhoon in the western Pacific.

Thanks to ADGP members we were able to reach over 1.1 million people[1] with life-changing, and for some, lifesaving, disaster services.

IN FY26,THE RED CROSS RESPONDED TO:

- 396 big disasters
  (each costing us $10,000+)
- 12 major disasters
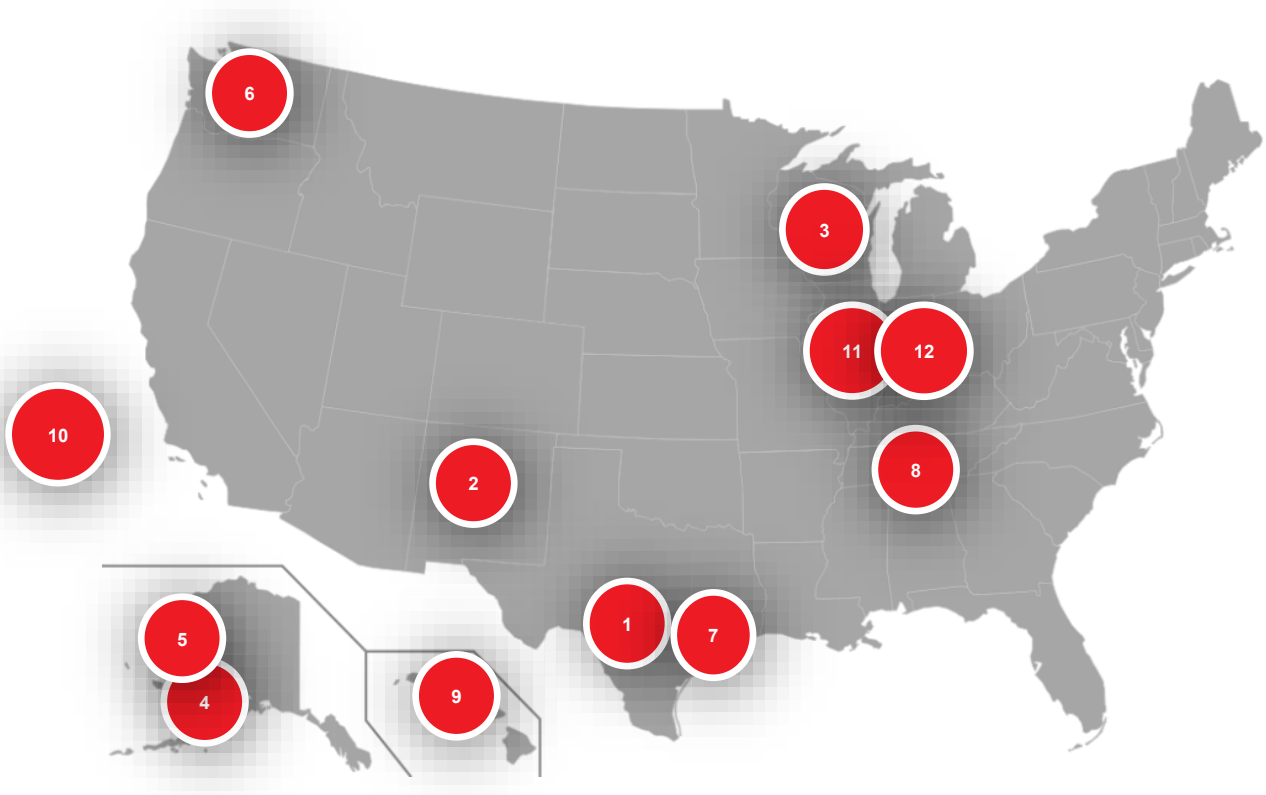
  (each costing us $250,000+).

[1] Estimated number of people reached with Red Cross preparedness, relief and recovery services, based on number of households reached and average household size

Red Cross Fiscal Year 2026:

12 major U.S. disaster operations.

1. Central Texas Floods (Level 5)
2. New Mexico Floods – (Level 4)
3. Wisconsin Storms – (Level 4)
4. Alaska and Northwest Storms – (Level 5)
5. Alaska Storm Damage – (Level 5)
6. Washington Floods – (Level 5)
7. Texas Winter Storm – (Level 4)
8. Tennessee Winter Storm – (Level 4)
9. Kona Storms – Hawaii (Level 4)
10. Typhoon Sinlaku – Guam & N. Mariana Islands (Level 6)
11. Illinois Storms (Level 4)
12. Indiana Tornado (Level 4)



"Major" includes domestic disaster operations with costs of $250,000+ (Level 4 and higher) between July 1, 2025-June 30, 2026.

Delivering Aid After Emergencies Large and Small

Some 7,850 disaster workers deployed more than 11,900 times to provide immediate help following 396 big disaster operations.

We did all this work while also addressing more than 57,390 home fires.

Red Cross Domestic Disaster Operations	Number of Responses
Large Multifamily Home, Industrial or Commercial Fires	247
Winter & Other Storms*	56
Floods & Tornadoes*	40

"Big" includes domestic disaster operations with costs of $10,000+ (Level 2 and higher) between July 1, 2025-June 30, 2026. *Number represents operations opened and does not reflect the actual number of weather events during the time period.

Together, We Provided Life-Changing Support

Thanks to ADGP members, the Red Cross was ready in FY26 to respond with relief and recovery support at a moment's notice across the country. After clouds have parted and storms cleared, we remain by survivors' sides for as long as we're needed.

More than 955,600
meals and snacks served with partners

More than 72,700
overnight stays provided in emergency lodging with partners

Nearly
45,100
households provided with relief items

More than 15,100
households provided recovery support

Includes domestic disaster operations with costs of $10,000+ (Level 2 and higher) between July 1, 2025-June 30, 2026.

Volunteers Brought Help and Hope to Hard-Hit Survivors

Alaska Storms and Floods

October 2025 - Present

“I still can’t believe we lost our place, but help is here, and I will move forward from here.”

Gilbert Amik, who lost his home in Kipnuk, Alaska, to October’s destructive storms and flooding.

After the remnants of Typhoon Halong brought powerful storms and catastrophic flooding to western Alaska, dozens of families were forced to evacuate their homes. Gilbert and his mother eventually found refuge at a Red Cross shelter in Anchorage — and a friend in volunteer Deb Blaze. “I am just so grateful for her and the Red Cross,” Gilbert said. “She looks out for me.”

Washington Floods

December 2025 - Present

“We just moved here and we’ve lost so much. I’ve just about run out of tears.”

Yvonne Smokey, of Concrete, Washington, spoke with volunteer Ryan Lang after flooding devastated her community.

When historic floods upended countless lives in Washington during the holiday season, the Red Cross was there with vital aid for hard-hit residents like Yvonne. We supported safe shelter for displaced individuals and families; delivered meals, relief supplies, emotional support and basic health services; and distributed financial assistance to help with urgent needs.

CARING FOR OLDER ADULTS AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

On Oahu, Hawaii, Red Cross Disaster Disability Integration volunteer Sarah Clifford visited with evacuee Alvin Parks to assess any access or functional needs. Alvin was forced from his home when heavy rains from Kona Low storms led to devastating flooding on the island in March.

Disability Integration volunteers work with older adults and people with disabilities to identify unmet needs and ensure they can access essential support and resources. During the visit, Sarah learned that Alvin did not have time to bring a needed medical device when he evacuated and arranged a follow-up from our Disaster Health Services team, which supports replacement of lost medical devices and other prescribed medical needs.

Responding to Home Fires and Protecting Families

Red Cross workers helped survivors of over 57,390 home fires across the country in FY26.

The Sound the Alarm initiative made families safer through home fire education and free smoke alarm installations.

Since its 2014 launch:

More than 2,690
documented lives saved

- More than 1.1 million escape plans made
- More than 1.2 million households made safer
- More than 3.1 million new smoke alarms installed

Includes totals from October 2014-July 2026.

“Knowing that there are people here to take care of us and give us things we need is comforting. I’m so grateful.”

Chelsea Constance, home fire survivor

Chelsea Constance escaped a fire in her East Orange, New Jersey, apartment building earlier this year.

After being seen at a nearby hospital, Chelsea came to our shelter, where we offered her hot meals, a safe place to sleep, blankets, toiletries and other essentials as she recovered from one of the scariest days of her life.

“The day had been so hectic,” Chelsea said. “When I got here, the volunteers smiled at me. It’s calm and quiet, and now, I feel normal.”

Alleviating Suffering Worldwide

In FY26, we supported global Red Cross-Red Crescent movement disaster responses in 32 countries, including:

Philippines: Multiple powerful earthquakes struck the Philippines in Sept.-Oct. 2025, displacing over 26,000 people and damaging tens of thousands of homes, along with schools and infrastructure. The American Red Cross worked closely with the IFRC and Philippine Red Cross to mobilize assistance, including financial support for the response.

Madagascar: We supported the emergency appeal to assist the Malagasy Red Cross after two tropical cyclones made landfall in Madagascar just 10 days apart in Jan.-Feb. 2026, causing widespread flooding and devastating damage to buildings, crops and infrastructure. Some of the cyclone-affected districts also faced additional complications, including Mpox outbreaks in northern regions and food insecurity in eastern and southern Madagascar.

Sri Lanka: After Tropical Cyclone Ditwah caused severe flooding and landslides across the country, taking over 650 lives, we provided financial support to help the Sri Lanka Red Cross deliver cash grants for shelter and recovery, along with badly needed water, sanitation and hygiene programs.

Hong Kong: One of the worst fires in Hong Kong's history occurred at the Wang Fuk Court apartment complex, where seven of the eight towers rapidly went up in flames, trapping many residents inside and taking over 160 lives. The American Red Cross supported emergency assistance provided by the Hong Kong Red Cross.
