

Carlos Taylor

Carlos Taylor is the Program Manager of the Gregory S. Fehribach Center at Eskenazi Health in Indianapolis. At the Fehribach Center, he works to provide meaningful paid internship opportunities for college students with physical disabilities. Prior to joining the Fehribach Center, Carlos was the Adaptive Computer Technology Specialist at Ball State University, where he provided assistive technology solutions to students, staff, and faculty.

Carlos has also presented to numerous groups on topics pertaining to individuals with disabilities and has provided assistive technology (AT) training to corporate organizations.

Carlos is an alumnus of Ball State University, where he earned his Bachelor of Science in Business Information Technology, his Master of Science in Information and Communication Sciences, and is working toward completing his Master of Business Administration (MBA).

He has been a member of several boards, including Ascend Indiana, the Muncie Indiana Transit System (MITS), and the Human Rights Commission.