

James E. Stoltz, Attorney, Gerling Law

A native of Madisonville, Kentucky, James Stoltz has called the Evansville/Newburgh area home since 2000. After earning an undergraduate degree in history from the University of the South, Jim received his law degree from the law school at Washington and Lee University.

After holding positions at Rudolphe Fine Porter & Johnson (now Jackson Kelly), Evansville's Meyer Stone & Stratman, and Jasper's Birk & Birk, he started his own firm in 2012. When he isn't working for his clients, Jim enjoys fishing and golf, coaching youth sports for his kids, and volunteering with Evansville's Youth First Teen Court program.

