

Lisa Fulton, Senior Vice President and Banking Operations Executive, Lake City Bank

Lisa Fulton has worked for over 30 years in bank operations. She is Senior Vice President and Banking Operations Executive at Lake City Bank, where she leads the group that delivers bank services to its clients. Lisa and her team are also responsible for identifying and implementing innovative solutions while making sure that customers experience high levels of satisfaction—all in a highly regulated environment.

Lisa began her career at Lake City Bank in 1998 as an Assistant Vice President in Loan Operations. She had the opportunity to assume additional responsibilities in 2005 and was promoted to her current position in 2010.

Lisa was born and raised in Warsaw, Indiana, where she developed a true sense of community. She has volunteered for the March of Dimes and Junior Achievement, and was an active member of Altrusa International of Warsaw for many years. Lisa previously served on the advisory board for WISE in Kosciusko County. Lisa began her Red Cross adventure in 2008 when she joined the board for the Kosciusko Chapter of the American Red Cross. Over the years Lisa has transitioned to other American Red Cross board roles, staying committed to the mission and helping those when they need it the most. Lisa currently serves on the advisory board for the Northeast Indiana Chapter of the American Red Cross, and is the committee chairperson for the Mission Committee.

Lisa is a 2004 graduate of the BAI Graduate School of Bank Operations and Technology and an alumna of Kosciusko Leadership Academy (KLA).
