

Patti Michael

She's a lifelong Hoosier getting an early start in volunteering, watching her mother work with organizations like Catholic Charities and the Harvest Food Bank. She volunteered as a young girl and enjoyed spending time with and learning from other volunteers. She's lived in Fort Wayne now for seven years and really loves the city and getting to know the people in it. She is AVP Branch Manager at F&M Bank and loves serving her customers and community. When Patti saw the call for board members for the American Red Cross, she couldn't pass up the chance to try her hand at something new to see if she could help more in the community where she lives. This is the first board that she's served on, and she's excited to see what she can do with it.

When she's not working, she's spending time with her family. They enjoy walking together, biking, and travelling. She's a foodie and loves going out for amazing food in any city when she gets the chance.
