

Roberto Iglesias, M.D., Evansville Surgical Associates

Dr. Iglesias was born and raised in Mexico City, and he grew up in Houston, Texas. He completed his undergraduate education at University of Kansas and then attended David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA. Dr. Iglesias serves as the Director of Pediatric Trauma at St. Vincent- Evansville. His special interests include minimally invasive and advanced laparoscopy, endocrine, colonoscopy and endoscopy, and treatment of varicose veins.

He enjoys spending time with his wife and children, as well as skiing, cycling, water sports and golf.

