

Tom Walsh

Tom Walsh is a partner at Ice Miller LLP. In this role, he advises new companies and established businesses on corporate and technology issues, licensing, and strategic business transactions, with a particular focus on technology transactions in the life sciences and information technology fields. He also is a patent attorney registered to practice before the U.S. Patent & Trademark Office and has experience in patent prosecution in a variety of technology areas.

Prior to joining Ice Miller LLP, Tom worked as an engineer in the military electronics field. He held several engineering and management positions for the Department of Defense and Raytheon Corporation, including manufacturing engineer, manufacturing production manager, and software engineer.

Tom received a B.S. in Industrial Engineering from Purdue University, an M.B.A. from Indiana University Kelley School of Business, and a J.D. from the Indiana University McKinney School of Law.

Tom currently serves and has served in the past as board member and advisor for numerous organizations, including A Kid Again, Boiler Business Exchange, Providence Cristo Rey High School, Allisonville Youth Baseball and Softball, Purdue Research Park – Indianapolis, and Educational Choice Charitable Trust.