

Frequently Asked Questions for Organizations

- Find My Certification
- Group Training
- How to Become a Training Provider/Teach Red Cross
- How to Become a Red Cross Instructor
- General questions

Find My Certifications:

Q: I need a copy of my certification, who should I call?

A: Visit Find My Certificate to access a copy of your digital certificate.

Group Training

Q: I'm not sure which course my team should take. I need to meet OSHA requirements.

A: No problem. Our training experts will evaluate your needs and provide you with a recommendation. Our First Aid/CPR/AED courses with skills sessions meet Occupational Health and Safety Administration (OSHA) training and state licensing requirements. You can call us at 1-800-567-1487 or fill out the form here to get started.

Q: I'm not sure which course my team should take. I need to meet requirements for my hospital or EMS agency.

A: No problem. Our training experts will evaluate your needs and provide you with a recommendation. Our American Red Cross Resuscitation Suite™ for Basic Life Support (BLS), Advanced Life Support (ALS), and Pediatric Advanced Life Support (PALS) programs with skills sessions meet competency verification, education, credentialing and privileging requirements for hospitals and EMS agencies. You can call us at 1-800-567-1487 or fill out the form here to get started.

Q: My team is already trained, but we need to be recertified. How can I do that?

A: Getting employees recertified is easy. The Red Cross offers review courses for most classes; a review course gives participants the opportunity to review course content within a formal class setting. Review classes are abbreviated courses, shorter than the initial training. Fill out the form here to get started before your employees' certificates expire.

Q: What is the minimum number of people required for group training?

A: The billing minimum is 8 people. If you have less than 8, call 1-800-567-1487, and we can help you register for individual classes.

Q: What will we receive as part of our training?

A: In addition to two-year Red Cross certificates that meet OSHA. The Joint Commission, CMS and/or provider privileging requirements, you will have access to free digital materials and mobile apps.

Become a Training Provider / Teach Red Cross

Q: Who is eligible to become a Red Cross Training Provider?

A: Red Cross Training Providers are companies or individuals licensed to use and teach Red Cross training courses to individuals or groups within their company or organization.

Training Providers also include independent companies or self-employed individuals that wish to offer Red Cross training to outside customers and companies as permitted in their Red Cross Training Provider agreement. Fill out the form here to get started.

Q: What are the requirements to become a Red Cross Training Provider?

A: Your organization must be a registered LLC or Inc. In addition, you will need to carry your own insurance, cover your start-up and ongoing associated costs. To get started, fill out the form here.

Q: What does it cost to become a Red Cross Training Provider?

A: There is no fee associated with the contractual paperwork to become a Red Cross Training Provider. The Red Cross charges fees for its courses, which vary by individual course. These fees include the student's digital certificate, online content (for blended learning or online classes), digital materials and use of our Learning Management System. The Training Provider is responsible for promoting its courses and for staff and equipment. The Red Cross offers a variety of start-up options for a fee, including licensing for your organization's Learning Management System, equipment through the Red Cross Store and promotion through our Class Posting Service.

Q: How can I train all my instructors at once?

A: To get started, fill out the form here and we'll help you schedule your team's training at a time that's most convenient.

Q: What is class posting?

A: Nearly 4 million people search the Red Cross website for training each year, and organizations can post their training classes on redcross.org for a fee. With an average increase of 28% in enrollees, Class Posting Service from the Red Cross helps you grow your training business at a fraction of the cost charged by search engines. Once you become a Red Cross Training Provider, ask for information on how this works. Fill out the form here to become a Red Cross Training Provider and learn more about this service.

Become an Instructor:

Q: How do I become an instructor?

A: If you'd like to learn more about becoming an instructor, or if you're ready to get started, or click here for more information. You can also contact the Training Support Center at 1-800-RED CROSS (and select the prompt for "Health and Safety Training") or email support@redcrosstraining.org.

American Red Cross
Training Services

Q: I'm already certified with another non-Red Cross training provider; how can I bridge my certification?

A: Bridging is free and efficient for those who meet the qualifications. To teach any American Red Cross course, you must first be affiliated with a current American Red Cross Training Provider or be employed as a paid/volunteer instructor of the American Red Cross. This requirement is in addition to being a current certified instructor. For more information, click here. If you are not already affiliated or not sure, contact us at support@redcrosstraining.org and our experts can help initiate the process with you and/or your employer.

General FAQs

If you have other questions, please review our general FAQ or contact us at support@redcrosstraining.org, select the live chat button at the top of the page or call 1-800-RED-CROSS for assistance.