

Learning for All: Instructor Inclusion Training

The American Red Cross aspires to be an organization that reflects all communities we serve. We are committed to delivering training by creating an inclusive, collaborative learning environment respectful of participants' unique backgrounds, perspectives and abilities. That's why we've created Instructor Inclusion Training: Creating an Inclusive Learning Environment, a free online course on how to foster a space where all participants feel valued.

Course Content

Committing to and Embracing Inclusion: Creating an inclusive classroom that understands and challenges obstacles to inclusion

Accommodations: Identifying and facilitating welcoming and suitable accommodations to help meet skills and course objectives to the greatest extent possible

Specifications

Online only, ADA compliant course offering

0.1 CEU/1.0 contact hour through the American Red Cross

1.0 Educator CEH through the Commission on Accreditation for Prehospital Continuing Education (CAPCE)

No cost to participants and no additional materials are required

Approximately one hour in length

Please visit the Instructor Lifecycle > Recertification section of the Red Cross Learning Center \(redcrosslearningcenter.org\) to learn more and access the course.

American Red Cross
Training Services